

DF21 – CV Preparation and Interview Skills

The purpose of your CV is not to get you the job but to get you the interview. A great CV can get you an interview by selling your skills, achievements and experience.

Course Aims:

Getting your CV right is vital because it is often the employer's first and only impression of you. Also in this programme we will look at maximising your chances of success at interview, by giving you some sound advice regarding interview techniques, raising your self confidence and dealing with nerves through mock interview sessions.
